

CONTESTS IN TEAMING UNITS AT KEARNY

(By Associated Press)
CAMP KEARNY, July 3.—By divisional general order, a competition in transportation was held here today between 65th field artillery brigade (California and Utah), the 79th (Arizona and Colorado) Infantry brigades, and a group including all other units in the 40th division.

Competitors representative of each brigade or group were chosen by brigade and group competitions held yesterday, which in turn were made up of entries selected through unit competition held July 1.

The competition was held to stimulate interest in the care, maintenance and management of transportation throughout the division and to encourage the personnel in reaching a higher standard than they have already so satisfactorily reached.

Individual prizes were awarded the competitors in each of the five classes in the tournament, and a silver trophy cup went to the unit winning the largest number of prizes. This will be competed for at subsequent contests and will become the property of the unit which wins a twice.

Unit and brigade and group commanders were authorized to offer special prizes, such as extra privileges to the successful competitors in the unit and brigade and group competitions.

The classes included:

Mule drawn, four line teams, escort wagons and ambulances.

Three drawn four line teams, escort and special foot wagons, etc.

Mule drawn or horse drawn two line teams, combat carts, water carts

MINDEN INN IS THE FINEST HOTEL IN THE INTERMOUNTAIN COUNTY

The prettiest and best managed hotel on the Pacific coast is the Minden Inn under the management of E. A. Hewitt, formerly manager of the Goldfield hotel at Goldfield. The house has not been opened longer than 4 months; in that time it has achieved the distinction of being the most popular resort in the intermountain region. Situated in a beautiful park, built of concrete and conducted in the most up-to-date city style as a country club retreat the Minden Inn, at Minden, Nevada, is one of those places which endear themselves to the fancy of the public after a single experience. The house is of three stories and every room has a bath with a shower attached with plumbing of the highest order. The dining room is a gem with plenty of light and furnished in the most exquisite fashion, the service calling for the finest napery, cut glass and china of a rare order of excellence seldom seen in public dining rooms. The appointments are distinctly artistic and the service as administered by the white uniformed girls is as nearly perfect as careful drilling can make it. The bedrooms bear the same mark of superiority with the furniture varying according to season from wicker to damask. All floors are hardwood covered with rich velvety rugs. The lobby is a perfect dream and the ladies rest room serves as an attraction for scores of motorists who make it a point to plan their itineraries for a stop over at this famous hostelry. Male guests find their tastes suited in an unobtrusive buffet where the latest may be made in all grades of wines and beverages.

One of the strongest cards offered by the management is that the staples consumed in the hotel, except the coffee and sugar, are of home production, coming from the Dangberg ranches, the owners of which own the hotel which they constructed with an idea to diverting automobile travel from less attractive routes and popularizing the Minden Inn as a place for a week's end. The demand for accommodations is so great every Saturday and Sunday that reservations are made nearly a month ahead by Reno and Carson City citizens who know the pleasure of putting in a day at the restful inn. To those leaving Tonopah by auto

PLIGHT OF GOLD MINERS SERIOUS

THE ENGINEERING AND MINING JOURNAL EXPRESSES VIEWS IN EDITORIAL

In view of the fact that western gold miners and western congressmen are today holding a conference in Washington relative to devising some means to afford the miners of the yellow metal relief, the following editorial from the Engineering and Mining Journal will be of general interest:

"The present plight of the gold miners has been the subject of much discussion. They get the same number of dollars for an ounce of their product that they used to, but their dollars will buy only about half as much labor and material; in other words, their operating costs have risen enormously. Some publicists have argued that gold is non-essential, that the gold mines ought to be shut down, so as to release their men for mining of copper, lead and other metals directly needed. Others, including ourselves, have argued to the contrary. The secretary of the treasury has now expressed the view of the administration on this subject in a letter to the Alaskan delegate in congress, as follows:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 1, in relation to the present conditions surrounding the production of gold in Alaska. I fully appreciate that, with the rising cost of raw material and labor and with a fixed value for their output, the gold miners of the world are facing difficult conditions. I should be sorry, however, if for this reason there were any relaxation in the effort to produce gold. At no time has this country so much required the largest possible production of gold as at present. Next to food and ammunition, gold is one of the most needed war essentials. In order to place the enormous amount of government bonds required to finance our war expenditures, a large credit structure will inevitably be erected on our gold reserves, and it is necessary that those reserves, which are the foundation of the structure, shall be maintained on the broadest possible basis.

"The United States and its associates in the war are heavy purchasers of raw materials and other commodities for the war in many neutral countries, and our war requirements make it impossible for us to pay our bills in those neutral countries as we have been in the habit of paying them in times of peace, viz, through the shipment of manufactured goods and commodities which those countries are eager to buy from us. This means that a certain amount of debt to those countries must be paid for in credits or in gold.

"This brief statement will, I hope, make clear to your constituents the great necessity that exists for the maintenance of gold production at the maximum point. The man of the community that maintains or increases its production of gold in the face of difficulties and discouragement is performing a patriotic service which deserves recognition no less than the more obvious, but not less useful, services that are more in the public eye.

"We shall not take the time and space to elaborate upon our endorsement of the soundness of Mr. McAdoo's views respecting this matter. Let us rather direct attention to what may be done to ameliorate the present adversity of the gold miners. They must bow to the operation of immutable economic laws. But it is too much to ask that they be exempted from all federal taxation? We think not. We hope that this important matter may receive adequate attention in the course of framing the new tax legislation that is now going on in congress.
